Dear Mr. Wead,

I received a copy of your request from Alisa, Secretary of Sugar Creek Presbyterian Church. My name is Jane Jolly and I am a member of the Sugar Creek Presbyterian Church History Committee.

As you may know, our church will be 221 years old in September of this year. You may have already accessed a very brief history of Sugar Creek on our website. Moving en masse to Ohio, we were founded as a yoked congregation with the Massie's Creek Presbyterian Church until 1811. That church ceased in the late 1800s, however, even though the building is gone as well, the graveyard is still present, now called the Stevenson Cemetery. I noted that your relative #7, James Wead, is buried there.

Sugar Creek was then yoked with Xenia Presbyterian Church from 1811-1829. There is a Xenia United Presbyterian Church which can claim several former Presbyterian Churches in a number of mergers, including the congregation with whom we were yoked.

Sugar Creek Church itself has been located on three different sites in Greene County before relocating to our present site in Montgomery County by 1871. Our present building is the 2nd due to a fire in 1911.

With such a layered history of ties with other congregations, a number of locations, fires and tornado damage, we are fortunate to have the records that survived. This is also to say that doing research is sometimes like putting together a complex puzzle with missing pieces.

I do see Wead/Wade family names and will be sending you separately what I have found. Because of the yoke with Massie's Creek Church and Xenia Presbyterian Church, some of the Session records and lists of Ruling Elders are combined since the congregations met together, sharing the same minister as moderator, serving as one Session for both congregations. My theory, given the dates of your relatives, is that they attended the Massie's Creek Church which used to be on Stevenson Road in Greene County and perhaps the Xenia Presbyterian Church which is no longer in existence.

Feel free to email me at mjolly937@gmail.com or text/call me at 937-751-8579 if you have any questions. I will be emailing you soon from my phone with snapshots of any Wead/Wade records.

Blessings,

Jane Jolly
